Tacchi-Morris Arts Centre | Context and Background

Tacchi-Morris Arts Centre is a multipurpose venue that provides arts activities for the whole community. Opened in 2000 as the result of a successful National Lottery bid and partnership funding from the Tacchi-Morris Trust, the centre holds state-of-the-art facilities and aims to inspire all the community to get involved in the arts, be it coming to watch a show or taking part.

We promote over 200 events and evening and weekend performances a year. The programme comprises a mixture of shows by education establishments, community groups and professional touring productions. In particular this includes Heathfield Community School, who amongst many other things, put on a season of full-length plays each year, as well as a number of dance and music festivals.

The professional programme aims to be very diverse, offering a wide range of shows for adults and young people (many of which can have an attached residency or workshop). The programme features prominent national names and artists, cutting edge theatre companies, a range of work for early years and contemporary dance alongside more commercial acts such as selected tribute acts and comedy. We also have a large community theatre programme and work closely with local theatre groups and artists to support their work.

As well as a busy programme of theatre, dance and music, Tacchi-Morris Arts Centre runs a range of community classes open to all the family and hosts approximately eight visual art exhibitions annually in the foyer gallery space.

Adjacent to Tacchi-Morris Arts Centre is Somerset Performing Arts College of Education (The SPACE). This 16-19 Performing Arts College draws young people committed to future careers in the performance sector. The SPACE provides further scheduling and performance opportunities and we host their annual full-scale musical as well other regular festivals such as SPACE Fest.

We believe involvement in the arts is not only a great way to have fun and breed creativity but also a means for exploring what it means to be human. Our work as part of Heathfield Community School and The SPACE (as well as with other local secondary and primary schools and colleges) and with the wider community has shown us the value of the arts in developing skills and raising attainment, in challenging ideas and the world around us, in improving health and well-being and in building confidence and self-esteem.

A joint agreement exists between Heathfield Community School, the Tacchi-Morris Trust and Somerset County Council which governs the use of the building. Tacchi-Morris Arts Centre was developed through support from Kathleen Tacchi-Morris and continued support from the Tacchi-Morris Trust and Heathfield Community School. Core to the centre's existence is continuing the legacy of pacifism that echoed throughout Kathleen Tacchi-Morris' work and life.

Staffing

The Centre itself has a small dedicated staff consisting of:

- Centre Director

- Finance & Administration Assistant

The Centre works in partnership with Heathfield Community School and is greatly aided by:

- Access to the whole superstructure of the school for various services e.g. personnel services, legal services, resources and reprographics, cleaning/caretaking, but more importantly there is a huge pool of human resources. There is a large creative team of teachers and support workers, all of whom are part of the Centre's mission.
- Heathfield Community School's commitment to all children following an arts-based course throughout their school life and having access to diverse range of professional arts experiences. This entitlement is underpinned by the Heathfield Community Arts Plan which guides programming.
